

CodingTrainer.com

Answers to 120110 Newsletter Quiz

1. No Actual correct answer to this question is provided. However if this were a question on a certification exam which would have been the most correct answer available to you - that would be "A". Because all of the bronchoscopy codes include fluoroscopy. The correct answer is 31625.
2. D, Objective
3. A or D depending on the surgical approach (endoscopic or open)
4. A. There are 2 stages documented. The CPT code for each stage includes upto 5 blocks. Stage 1 has 6 blocks. The result is the need to add 17315 to represent the additional block for stage 1. Each of the three CPT codes should have the unit of 1 in this scenario.
5. A,C,D Patient ID, Date and Authentication are required aspects for basic medical record documentation. Although, lab tests are important indicators of patient status and well-being, not always does an encounter require or include such data to be considered to be always required to be recorded for each and every medical record entry.